Local History Exhibition St Mary's Church, Eaton Socon

Saturday 30th April and Monday 2nd May 10am - 4pm

This year several small exhibitions are planned

WW1 Tribunals and the reasons men gave for not going off to war. These tribunals began in 1916 when more men were needed for the Front and some reasons men gave for not serving were that they were needed at home to care for sick relatives, to milk the cows, to run the cinema or to drive the school bus. It is amazing to discover what men thought females could not do!

The archaeological excavation on the new Lidl site - with photographs of the buildings, the field ditches, wells and some of the finds.

The 'Men of Dover in Wyboston' - and their link with the Paper Mill in WW2 in Little Paxton. After a successful get together of some of the families last year more information was gathered for a larger exhibition this year.

Another New Bench

Have you ever felt the urge to sit down after climbing Mill Hill Rd? This hill is the steepest in the town and several residents have requested that a bench be placed at the top of the hill so they can rest before continuing on their walk. ESCA would like to give a very big thank you to the Royal Naval Association who have donated most of the money needed for the bench. So why not go and have a look at the inscription which recalls how ancient the Great North Road is and the many people who have walked along it.

Encore!

"Encore! Concerts for all, big and small" was launched in September 2013 in St Neots and is proving to be very popular with local families. It has been proven that music plays a vital role in a child's development and so the concerts were started to bring live music to everyone from babies to grandparents in a relaxed and informal environment. At Encore! everyone is encouraged to react to music however they want – jumping up and down, dancing, sitting, lying down or drawing pictures inspired by what they have heard. But above all, they learn that music is fun and there's something very exciting about hearing it live. The concerts happen on the 3rd Thursday of each month in St Mary's Eaton Socon and feature professionals from the local area as well as from London. An adult ticket costs £6 which includes tea and homemade cake, and preschool children are free.

ESCA are proud to have been able to give a donation to Encore!, one of our new successful groups in the Eatons, so if you like music why not go along and join in.

Keep the Eatons Blooming

Now is the time to plan your gardens so get out your garden tools and brighten up your street. If you are keen to walk out and about then why not pick up a little bit of litter and put it in a litter bin. We look forward to seeing The Eatons clean and tidy and in full bloom.

Open Gardens Sunday 12th June 2016

Last year's Eatons Open Gardens was a great success and the money was shared between the cost of a third defibrillator in the Eatons and several children's groups. We are still looking for more gardens to make this event bigger and this year the date has been set for the afternoon of Sunday 12th June, so if you have a garden you would like to share with others and help to raise money for local good causes please let ESCA know at 3 Collingwood Road, Eaton Socon, Cambs or email eatonsca@gmail.com

Tickets and programmes will be available nearer the time. Watch out in the local newspapers and noticeboards for exact times nearer the event.

NEAT STREET JULY 2016

This popular event is now in its thirteenth year with Osier Court winning last year's competition. It is now time to enter your street for this year's competition so get together with your neighbours and enter for Neat Street 2016. Streets will be judged on (1) the absence of weeds on kerbs and gutters, (2) no litter, (3) maintained front gardens or frontages and (4) unobstructed pavements. Contact ESCA by phone or email and enter your street by June 15th. Longer streets can be split into smaller sections.

The Pightle Millennium Green – Eaton Socon

Usually in February I write about how the winter has left the Pightle rather bare, the rains have turned the paths to mud and we're just seeing the first signs of spring. One of those is certainly true as usual – there are some decidedly boggy patches around, so do take care when walking around. But a remarkably warm December and January by usual standards means that our daffodils have been in flower since Christmas week, along with the many others planted around the Eatons. Indeed, I'm wondering if they will even last until Easter! It is certainly odd to see them ahead of the snowdrops, which are now appearing in large clumps in the wooded areas.

Our bulb planters will also be pleased to see this year's crop of miniature daffodils and white crocus appearing now. Some years the new bulbs get established much better than others, so we never quite know what's going to come up, but as the days get longer we should see more and more patches of colour appearing.

Over the winter our volunteers have been beavering away tidying up both the river bank and the meadow area at the top, removing elder, brambles and ivy where they have invaded around some of our trees. Ivy in particular is a problem as it can accelerate the decline of trees that are towards the end of their lifespan. This should keep ours healthier for years to come and make them easier to tend to without fighting through mounds of prickles, as well as giving a much nicer view of the river itself. Don't worry, we're not purging out all the brambles so there should be plenty of blackberries in the autumn – we're just making sure they stick to where they should be! A big thank you to everyone has helped; even a little cutting back each week makes a huge difference over the course of the quiet season.

Pal of the Pightle

New – Sunday afternoon Guided walks around Eaton Socon

Guided walks are planned for some Sunday afternoons around the old village lanes of Eaton Socon so if you have often wondered about the history of this ancient village, the River Mill, the Lock Up, the Church and the Norman castle mounds then ask at the history exhibition over the May Weekend Celebrations about tickets for the walks.

Scams – beware of hoax computer calls

Beware of phone calls supposedly from someone who can fix your computer. While on the phone they try to access your computer and can cause serious damage. They will then ask for money to fix the problem.

If you have a suspect phone call please do not listen to them, put the phone down, phone a friend to clear the line and never part with any money. These hoaxers are very clever so do not be caught out. If there is a problem with your computer there are several reputable people in the town who can sort out the computer

A blue plaque at the George and Dragon

On Sunday 7th February the 15th blue plaque was unveiled in the Eatons. Richard ‘Tomo’ Thompson, a regular in the George and Dragon Public House, unveiled the plaque which recognises the importance of this public house during many centuries. A pub has stood on this spot for well over 200 years and was at first called ‘The George’ and is believed to have had an inn sign with the sailing ship of that name. In the early 19th century the ownership changed and a new building was built with the north part as the inn and a front door onto the street. The southern part of the building was a market gardener’s dwelling and the present car park area was the land on which produce was grown and sold. When the market gardener moved out in the 1970s the public house expanded, the main door into the public house became a window and the original market gardeners door became the door into the pub.

The George also gave its name to the nearby cottages and blacksmiths when the hamlet became known as George End, and for many years it was the end of the village of Eaton Socon before crossing the stream and entering Maltmans Gardens and Eaton Ford, or going up the hill and heading northwards.

For more information on the plaques in the Eatons please contact the museum for a leaflet or download a trail from the Eatons Community Association website - www.escan.org.uk

NEW THIS YEAR will be a ‘Floods are Out’ booklet written by Pam Ostler (Chairman of St Neots Community Archive Group) with some additional material by Sue Jarrett (Eatons Community Association Chairman). Read about residents’ memories of the great 1947 Flood of St Neots, the more recent flooding of 1998 and the measures taken to prevent future such floods. At a time when extensive flooding is occurring elsewhere in the country this booklet recalls the life in St Neots at such an eventful time.
